Grindstone Partners announces the add-on acquisition of Corbin by Fulcrum IT Services, expanding capabilities into mission critical broad sensor technology

ALEXANDRIA, VA, November 9, 2012— Grindstone Partners LLC announced that its portfolio company, Fulcrum IT Services, LLC, acquired Corbin Company, a provider of technology engineering services including cyber security and sensor technology support. Corbin complements and expands Fulcrum IT's offerings to include healthcare and human resource services including specialized change management, quality assurance and strategic planning. The acquisition adds to Fulcrum's current portfolio of key clients including the Dept of Homeland Security and the U.S. Army's Communications Electronics Research, Development and Engineering Center. Corbin adds mission critical solutions such as current broad sensor technology to support the Night Vision and Electronic Sensors Directorate.

Fulcrum CEO Jeff Handy said, "The additional offerings in healthcare broaden our potential client base in an important market and the engineering services bolster our existing technology solutions that can deliver break-through technologies for the next generation warfighter".
