Fulcrum IT Completes Acquisition of the Dataline LLC's Information Technology Group (ITG) Assets Expanding Fulcrum IT's DoD and Intelligence Community Business

MANASSAS, VA, May 9, 2011—Fulcrum IT today announced that it has acquired the Information Technology Group (ITG) from Dataline LLC., both strong providers in the Information Technologies services to the DoD and Intelligence Community. The acquisition furthers Fulcrum's growth in these markets and reinforces its commitment to providing innovation to its clients. The Dataline ITG acquisition also expands Fulcrum's Cyber Security, Software Development and Data Management capabilities.

Fulcrum IT CEO Jeff Handy said, "We have been partners working side by side with Dataline on several fronts over the years and have always been impressed that the Dataline Information Technology Group shared our culture of providing responsive, innovative, and critical world wide support to DoD and Intelligence Community clients. The acquisition supports Fulcrum's continued growth in these communities".

The acquisition establishes new Fulcrum IT offices in Tampa, Florida and Norfolk, Virginia with employee locations including New Mexico, North Carolina, South Carolina, California, Hawaii, Virginia, Florida and overseas mission support.
